OAKLAND COLLEGE SCHOOL.

In this school the patron has the choice of several departments of instruction, all well graded.

THE JUNIOR DEPARTMENT.

Is especially qualified to meet the wants of young boys.

THE SENIOR ENGLISH.

A thorough course of instruction in Elementary English Branches, Theoretical and Practical Business, the Practical Sciences and Art.

Is designed for those who intend to prepare for a Collegiate Course—furnishing the Preparatory Department of the College of California. The Modern Languages receive special attention.

For Catalogues or further information, address I. H. BRAYTON, Principal, Aug. 10-11 Oakland, Cal.

PACIFIC BUSINESS COLLEGE.

MECHANIC'S INSTITUTE.
POET STREET, Between Montgomery & Kerney SAN FRANCISCO.

The importance of a thorough and practical business training for those who contemplate entering the mercantile profession, is too well known to require much comment. Without such knowledge, the young merchant will be completely at sea in the labyrinth of difficulties which might otherwise be avoided. The thoroughness of the instruction, and the practical character of the instruction, will find themselves amply rewarded by the leading merchants of the city, and more effective in winning the favor and confidence of a business firm, than all the letters of introduction which friends can give.

The Pacific Business College maintains a reputation for thoroughness and systematic training, far superior to that of any other similar institution on the Pacific coast. Most of the leading merchants of this city have employed graduates from this college, and bear testimony to the practical efficiency of the course here prescribed. The system of actual practice, and the varied operations of a business firm, under the supervision of the college, has been added to this popular institution. This spirit of enterprise cannot fail to draw forth the well-wishes of the public.

Address for all information, VINSONHALL & DE LA LAGUNA.

A CARD.

We the undersigned, merchants and business men of San Francisco, California, are at the present time, employing men who have completed the prescribed course of study at the Pacific Business College, and we take pleasure in stating that we have found them well posted in accountancy and the general principles of business, showing conclusively that they have been subjected to a thorough drill in those important matters, by experienced and competent instructors.

We cheerfully recommend the College as being in our opinion, an institution of intrinsic merit, and well worthy of the confidence and support of the community.

A. HOSAN & CO., DUNKLEPPEL, LEVI STRAUSS & CO., PECK & TURNER, J. H. COHILL & CO., I. S. VAN WINKLE, J. K. PRIOR, CONTINENTAL LIFE INS. CO.

THE DEMON LADY.

Again in my chamber,
With thy smile sweet as sunshine,
And hand cold as lead!
I know thee, I know thee!
Nay, start not my sweet!
Those golden robes shrank up,
And showed me thy feet;
Those golden robes shrank up,
And showed me thy feet;
While out crept the symbols
Of Death and of sin!

Bright, beautiful devil!
Fare thee, pass from me now!
For the damp dew of death
Gathers thick on my brow;
And bind up thy girdle,
For beauteous disclosure
More dazzling white than
The wreath-dropt snow—
Away with thy kisses—
My heart wastes sick
As thy red lips, like worms,
Travel over my cheek!

Hail! press me no more with
That passionless hand!
'Tis whiter than milk, or
The foam on the strand;
And softer than down, or
The silken-leaved flower;
But colder than ice thrills
Its touch at this hour,
Like the finger of Death from
The cerements unrolled.
Thy hand on my head finds
Dull, clammy and cold.

Nor bend o'er my pillow—
Thy raven-black hair—
O'er shadows my brow with
A deep despair.
These curls, thick falling,
Spread fire through my brain,
And my temples are throbbing
With mad, mad pain.
The moonlight, the moonlight,
The deep-winding wail,
And a ship far away.

In its silence and beauty,
Its passion and power,
Love breathed of the land
And flowers of the sea,
The billows were chiming
On pale yellow sands:
The moonlight was gleaming
On small ivory hands,
There were bowers by the brook's brink
And flowers bursting forth.
They were not to be lost
A lost soul from me!

Now, forest and meadow,
Fruit, forest and river,
Are mingling with shadow—
Are lost to me ever.
The sunlight is fading,
Small birds seek their nest,
While happy hearts, flower-like,
Sink sleep to rest.
Nay, 'tis no matter—
Ay, kiss cheek and chin;
Kiss—kiss! 'till thou hast won me,
Bright, beautiful Sin!

THE AMOUNT OF SILVER IN USE AMONG MEN.

As silver constitutes, with gold, the great medium of commercial exchange over all the world, and in older times it was the only medium, and is so still among the nations of Eastern Asia the following historical reminiscences and estimates as to the value of the silver now in the possession of men may be of interest.

The first mention of silver we find in the Bible mentions that Abraham received "pieces" of silver, and weighed out "shekels" of it, which were current money among the merchants. It appears, however, that regular silver coin was only made about 900 years before our era, by the Egyptians. (See the Arabian chronicle.) A Babylonian inscription, found by Rawlinson, states that the city of Damascus, after its conquest by Pululak, had to pay a tribute of 2,300 talents of silver. Plinius states that Cyrus collected from his Asiatic provinces an amount of silver which, reduced to our standard of the gold dollar, would equal 40,000,000,000. This statement is almost incredible, as will appear from the following calculations about the real amount of silver in different hands, founded on reliable evidence:

Herodotus states that the nations subdued by the Persians, paid a yearly tribute of silver equal to 15,000,000 dollars. They paid this, say ten years, $150,000,000

Carthage paid to Rome after the second Punic War $180,000,000 for forty years, 9,000,000

Spain paid Rome $2,340,000 for twelve years, 27,000,000

Silver was, in consequence, so abundant in Rome that Caligula loaded 125,000 pounds on armor and weapons used in the circus, worth at the present rate, $2,300,000.

It appears from Plinius that the silver mines of Spain were worked already, 2,000 years ago, to the distance of one and a half miles from the surface and Polybius states that the Carthaginians had 40,000 men engaged there in that business. The amount they took is estimated at 100,000,000

The Moors continued this mining very successfully, and took out an amount estimated at 55,000,000

After the Moors, the mines were deserted until re-opened, in 1571, by the Puggar family (German) who extracted from 1571 to 1607, 15,000,000

Again the mines were idle till 1825, since which time English companies have taken out about 20,000,000

In Germany silver mining was commenced about the year 700; in Bohemia and the Harz in 1000; in Tyrol and Saxony in 1300; and in England, France, Hungary and Norway in 1400. The total amount produced by all these countries is estimated at 200,000,000

But all this was put in the shade when after the discovery of America, silver was found in Mexico and South America, where it had been mined by the natives for an unknown period of time, but in so imperfect and primitive a manner that the treasures found by Europeans has far surpassed those in the hands of the natives, large as they were.

For instance, two beams of silver were found by Pizarro near Cuzco, twenty feet long, one foot wide, three inches thick; consequently containing ten cubic feet, weighing 9,000 pounds, and worth, 180,000

The ornaments of temples stolen by the Spaniards, amounted to 26,000 pounds, 520,000

All the Mexican silver was used in ornamenting temples, etc., not as coin or circulating medium.

Compare, now, this amount with the results obtained by civilized mining:

Amount of silver smelted at the Pasco works from 1784 to 1827—5,000,000 lbs Troy, 100,000,000

Yearly yield of three mines for thirty years after 1827, $2,000,000 per year, 60,000,000

The mines of Great Po-tow-mac, its discovery in 1545 until 1550, $10,000,000 per year, 110,000,000

The same mines, from that time till 1678, 1,000,000,000

For the last ninety years, 1,000,000,000

The mines of Peru and Bolivia, from their discovery till 1845, 2,500,000,000

The mines of Chili, worked by English companies from 1836 to 1853, 34,000,000

Mines of Mexico, from 1250 to 1700, $2,500,000 per year, 375,000,000

During the 18th century, $23,000,000 per year, 2,300,000,000

In the first half of the 13th century, $10,000,000 per year, 500,000,000

During the last fifteen years, $25,000,000 per year, 375,000,000

All these make a total of $8,030,700,000.

It is not likely that the nations of Asia mined as much silver as this amount; the probability is that the total amount possessed by them before the introduction of western silver did not exceed $1,000,000,000, which would swell the amount to $9,030,700,000; and making a further allowance for amounts not accounted for of some $300,000,000, the whole amount of silver in possession of man in this century would be less than $10,000,000,000; only one quarter of the amount which Plinius states that Cyrus collected more than two thousand years ago.

In closing this article, we cannot omit mentioning one fact which strikes us as a curiosity; that all this existing silver is inadequate to pay the debts of the governments of two or three great modern nations. P. H. VAY DER WYDE, M. D.—American Journal of Mining.

METALLIC BURNING MIRROR.

Villette a French philosopher of the days of Louis XIV., constructed a burning mirror which is thus described:

It was thirty four inches in diameter, and vitrified flints and bricks almost instantaneously, no matter how large they were. It consumed the greenest wood, burned it to ashes in an instant, and fused the most refractory metals with equal ease and quickness. Steel no matter how hard, resisted its powers so quickly that one part burnt away in inconceivable brilliant sparks, some of them forming stars as large as a frame piece, leaving a flowing mass of metal behind. The last made by Villette was still more powerful, being larger and more curiously made. It was forty-four inches in diameter, and three inches and a half deep. Its burning point or focus, was situated at a distance of three feet and seven inches from the surface, and was apparently as large as a five-pence piece; and it was at this spot, where the rays of light and heat were concentrated into so small a space that the wonderful effects of its violent power became manifest, the spot of light being of such brilliancy that the eye could not more withstand its brightness than that of the sun. Besides the property of burning which it possessed in so wonderful a degree, it was capable of exhibiting other effects just as curious as those already related. It had the power of sending the images of objects, to a distance of fifteen feet or more, so that a man looking at himself in this mirror, with a stick of sword in his hand, saw an image of himself suspended in the air, apparently ready to strike the observer. On seeing such an effect for the first time, the observer could hardly fail to experience the greatest surprise and even fear. It is stated that the King having placed himself, with sword in hand, before one of these mirrors, in order to observe the effect, was surprised to find himself face to face with an image of himself apparently directed against him. The King could not conceal his surprise and fright, and afterwards felt so ashamed at being terrified by a mere shadow that he ordered the mirror to be taken away, and could never be prevailed upon to look into it again.

A PRISONER in the Fleet sent to his creditor to let him know that he had a proposal to make, which he believed would be for their mutual benefit. Accordingly, the creditor called on him to hear it. "I have been thinking," said he, "that it is a very idle thing for me to lie here, and put you to the expense of seven groats a week. My being so chargeable to you has given me great uneasiness, and you know what it may cost you in the end? Therefore, what I propose is this: You shall let me out of prison, and, instead of seven groats, you shall allow me only eightpence a week, and the other twopenny shall go towards the discharging of the debt."

A MAN by the name of Webb, was lynched in Indian Valley, Plumas county one day last week. Webb murdered a man on Saturday, was tried before Judge Lynch on Sunday, and on Monday was hung. The Sheriff did not arrive in time to rescue him.—Mountain Messenger, April 11.

A COTEMPORARY of it is generally supposed that Mr. Axtell, Democratic Congressman, will support Grant.

COMMON IMPROPRIETIES OF SPEECH.

"At all" is a needless expletive, which is employed by many writers of what may be called the forcible-feeble school. For example: "The coach was upset, but, strange to say, not a passenger received the slightest injury at all." "It is not at all strange."

Mistaken is erroneously used for mistake. "You are mistaken" is used to signify "you mistake." A popular hymn begins, "Mistaken souls, that dream of heaven," for mistaking. "I am mistaken" means, I am taken amiss—that is you misapprehend me.

What, for that. This error is quite common among those who think themselves above learning anything more out of a dictionary or grammar. "He would not believe but what I was joking."

Convene is used by many persons in a strange sense. "This road will convene the public."

Evidence is a word much abused by learned judges and attorneys—being continually used for testimony. Evidence relates to the conviction of any one's mind; testimony to the knowledge of another concerning some facts. The evidence in a case is often the reverse of the testimony.

Had have. This is a very low vulgarism, notwithstanding it has the authority of Addison. It is quite common to say, "Had I have seen him." "Had you have known it," etc. We can say, "I have been," "I had been," but what sort of a tense is, had have been?

Had ought, had better, had rather. Vulgar absurdities, not less gross than hisn, taint, tother, thein.

At, for by; e. g., "Sales at auction." The word auction signifies a manner of sale; and this signification seems to require the preposition by.

The above, as an adjective. "The above extract is sufficient to verify my assertion." "I fully concur in the above statement," (the statement, or the foregoing statement.) Charles Lamb speaks of "the above boys, and the below boys."

Then, as an adjective. "The then King of Holland." This error, to which even educated men are addicted, springs from a desire of brevity; but verbal economy is not commendable when it violates the plainest rules of language.

Either is only applicable to objects; and the same remark is true of neither and both. "Either of the three," is wrong. "Whether" is a contraction of "which of either," and therefore cannot be correctly applied to more than two objects.

Proposition, for proposal. This is not a solecism, but as a universal word is preferable to one that is equivocal, "proposal" for a thing offered or proposed, is better than "proposition." "He demonstrated the fifth proposition in Euclid;" he rejected the proposal of his friend.

Sit, sat, are much abused words. It is said that the brilliant Irish lawyer, Curran, once carelessly observed in Court, "a dictation lays," and the Judge corrected him by remarking, "Lies, Mr. Curran—hens lay." But subsequently the Judge ordering counsel to "sit down," Curran retorted: "Sit down, your honor—hens set." The retort was characteristic of more wit than truth. Hens do not set; they sit. It is unusual to hear people say, "The coat sets well." "The wind sets fair." Sit is the proper word. The pretense of "sit" is often incorrectly used for that of "set." e. g., "He sat off for Boston."

From thence, from whence. As the adverbs "thence" and "whence" literally supply the place of a noun and preposition, there is a solecism in employing a preposition in conjunction with them.

Conduct. In conversation this verb is frequently used without the personal pronoun, as "he conducts well," for "he conducts himself well."

Least, for less. "Of two evils choose the least."

Previous, for previously. "Previous to my leaving America."

Appreciates, for "rises in value." "Gold appreciated yesterday."

"Proves," and "pleads," for proved and pleaded, are clearly vulgarisms.

Bound, for ready or determined. "I am bound to do it." We may say properly that a ship is "bound for Liverpool," but in that case we do not employ, as many suppose, the past participle of the verb to bind, but the old northern participle adjective, bound, from the verb to bind, signifying "to make ready or prepare." The term is strictly a nautical one, and to employ it in a sense that unites the significations of both bound and the English participle bound, from bind, is a plain abuse of language.

DRINKING WHISKY.—What do you drink whiskey for? Do you know? You don't know! Well, we would like to know who does! It is a vile practice in which politicians, common people, and all the rest of mankind, and even editors and lawyers, indulge. It is a mean practice. It destroys the intellect, kills the body, and damns the soul. The devil won a great victory when he introduced whiskey into the world. He knew what he was about. It was his business to fill his region with souls, and he knew whiskey was the best recruiting officer for the armies of perdition, that he could employ. We have a few words to say to whiskey drinkers—Don't touch it. It injures, it ruins, it kills. The kindest, the truest, best-hearted men in the world drink liquor to excess. God, and God alone, knows the struggle of such men to resist temptation. He alone delivered him earnestly they pray to be delivered from the evil. Oh! how many we know, kind-hearted, true, loving men, who are rapidly passing down to death on the rushing tide of intoxication. Do you drink? Stop today; for your own sake. Do you know a friend who sometimes drinks to excess, but who is striving to lead a sober life? You do! Well, don't tempt him! It is a great crime to use your influence for the destruction of a fellow creature. If you will enjoy it yourself, do so; but don't be instrumental in the murder of your neighbor.

NOT A LOVE CHASE.

A little affair occurred at North San Juan, a day or two since, which created considerable merriment among the boys of that quiet burg, the particulars of which we copy from the Nevada Gazette of Saturday. A young man who has been paying attention to a young lady, contrary to the wishes of her father, and who was ordered some time ago by the hard-hearted "parent" not to visit his house again, under the penalty of severe personal chastisement—which order he has obeyed. The lovers, however, frequently met elsewhere, and the "sparking" still went on, which the old man suspecting, armed himself with a club and laid in wait for the ardent youth, whom he soon espied in company with the gushing damsel. The old man gave chase and the youth took leave of his dulcinea at a Norfolk gait. He outran the old man and jumped a ditch. Paterfamilias was not so good a steeple chaser, and in he went over head and ears. The snow water cooled his wrath, and it is said he is quite reconciled to the young couple being married as soon as they are of lawful age.

AT WORK.

The Central Pacific Terminal Railroad has taken the preliminary steps, says the Bulletin, for the occupation of the lands ceded to it by the Legislature. It may now be set down as a fact that this Company will possess and improve 150 acres of tide lands, commencing at a point about 400 feet northward of the island, and near enough to gain all the benefit of shelter from the island. The first steps having been successful, we understand that the Company will proceed at an early day with the work of constructing its road from Vallejo to Oakland in accordance with surveys already made.

SECKEN ON THE RAMPAGE.

The Louisville Courier, which some of our contemporaries notice as being one of the best of Democratic papers, makes the following attempt to "fire the Southern heart."

War is not a pleasant thing to contemplate, but war is preferable to slavery. One of the other, Democrats of the Constitution, you must choose.

Democrats must prepare to fight! Democrats must fight!

The people must raise in their power and hurl the whole evil-breeding crew back into penitence.

Every man must do his duty! Every man must stand ready! Every rusty gun must be cleaned! Pray to God, if you will, to change the hearts of

FOR CHILDREN.—We are requested to state that Mr. Benton will preach a sermon for the children on to-morrow morning, and it is hoped that the parents generally will see that the young ones attend.

He will also preach a sermon at 2 o'clock, of the same day, before the Odd Fellows at Gold Run. All are invited.

PREPARING.—The Odd Fellows are making considerable preparations to have their celebration come off with eclat. We hear that the Rev. J. E. Benton is to deliver the oration and that the exercises in the evening will conclude with a grand ball and supper. Many visiting brethren from neighboring lodges are expected, and a good time generally anticipated. The 49th Anniversary of the introduction of Odd Fellowship into the United States promises to eclipse anything that has yet taken place in Dutch Flat.

GOLD RUN EXHIBITION.—Agreeably to notice the complimentary benefit to Miss Julia Paccard given by the ladies and gentlemen of Gold Run came off on Monday and Tuesday evenings last. The exhibition was largely attended both by the citizens of this place and those of Gold Run, and our sister town during the two days was thronged with the elite of both villages. The performance on the first night—when we attended—was all the managers could have possibly asked in the way of perfection in those who performed; many of them really surpassing the expectations of most sanguine well-wishes of the project, and none of them breaking down, a fact that must have been satisfactory to those who had devoted so much time and attention to the training of the youths who reflected upon them credit. After the exhibition Mr. Jewell improvised for the pleasure of the guests a dance, which was well attended, many of the young ladies and gentlemen keeping up the healthful exercise until the small hours of the morning. We here desire to chronicle the fact that Mr. Jewell of Hackett's Exchange, is decidedly the right man in the right place, as is also his lady Mrs. J., they being a whole team in the hotel business. No one ever darkens their doors who can possibly be dissatisfied after placing his extremities under their mahogany. They are "human men," both of them, and you never fail to feel at home when stopping at the Hackett Exchange. The proceeds of the exhibition we learn approximated about one hundred and seventy dollars.

CAVE.—On Saturday last a cave occurred in the claim of Messrs. Taylor Moore & Co., which caused a complete suspension of operations by that company as also by Carr & Co. The portion of the claim caused was that upon which the ladder rested that carried the pipes of the claims mentioned in the diggings. The damage sustained by these claims will amount to some one or two thousand dollars besides the loss of much valuable time in the midst of the favorable season of the year.

SEVERE ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday afternoon a very serious accident occurred to Mr. William Anderson, at Gold Run, foreman of the Newark claim; while in the act of ascending a ladder, and when at the distance of sixty feet from the ground he lost his balance and fell the entire distance, escaping with his life and no broken bones, but was badly bruised; one ankle badly sprained; an almost miraculous escape.

RAZED.—We understand from Mr. Williams, who resides at Green Valley, that a party of persons last week came gauged at his place and tore his house down and committed other outrages upon his property. As the matter will probably receive a judicial investigation we refrain at this time from making any strictures upon the conduct of those engaged in the outrage.

RICH.—Mr. Osmyn Harkness after a run of sixteen days in his claim near this place, cleaned up an average of $4,478 00. This is about an average of the yield of this claim. The expense of working the claim for the time stated amounted to a fraction over two thousand dollars, leaving a net profit of two thousand, three hundred dollars.

TOO MUCH SWEETNESS.—An exchange says that a girl in Topham, Maine, died from her blood turning to sugar. Our new compositor says this must be a mistake, for if sweetness is fatal to mortality, some of the fair damsels of Dutch Flat couldn't live a minute.

TRAVELING.—Those are intimately acquainted with us well know our abhorrence to the beastly practice of an over indulgence in intoxicating liquors; but there are those who will not refrain, and to such we commend the house represented by George Perry, under the belief that you are less liable to make a hog of yourself on good liquor than you are by imbibing poison.

BLUE LEAD STRUCK.

It is with feelings of more than usual gratification that we are enabled to announce the fact that the Blue Lead has been struck in this vicinity. This has been no new thing, it appears, but a well established fact for several months, the parties who were knowing to the discovery for reasons of their own, thought best not to make it public until the present. It appears from what we can learn that Mr. Taef sunk two shafts in his diggings immediately on the north side of town last year, sinking both in the aggregate the distance of an hundred and eighteen feet, in one of which he found a strata of blue cement some twenty-five feet in depth which prospects from twelve to twenty-five cents to the pan, being sufficient to justify any reasonable outlay of money for the erection of mills to crush it. This was all that our town needed to give it an impetus forward to success and prosperity, and we cannot help again congratulating our people upon the encouraging prospects before them. We have these facts from Mr. Taef himself and three or four other persons who have visited the shaft and seen the gold, men whose character for veracity and respectability cannot be doubted, and we do not hesitate to vouch for their correctness. The time is not far distant now when mills will be in operation all over our hills, and the music of the stamp will be heard far and near. Mr. Taef owns some fifteen hundred feet front of the ground, and if but a comparatively small portion of it prospects equal to that already found, he may be classed as a millionaire; and no one more richly deserves the smiles of fortune than he. He has displayed uncommon energy and perseverance for the past eight years in the prosecution of his mining labors, when but few would have shown the industry he has evinced. The report that the Dutch Flat Company had sunk to the bed-rock is now considered by many to have been a mistake, but for what purpose such a card could have been put in circulation we are at a loss to surmise, unless it was for the purpose of purchasing the ground owned by other companies in their vicinity, and we have heard of no attempts tending that way, consequently such a conjecture must be at fault. However, we are so well pleased at the fact of having the lead found in our midst that we don't care a continental who strikes it; the more the better, we hope everybody and his aunt may find a lead of gold in every garden and street in town and around it. Hurrah for Dutch Flat! Andy Johnson is impeached, and Jim Taef has found the Blue Lead.

A STRONG PLEA.—The following are the concluding remarks of Ex-Governor Boutwell before the Senate of the United States in the case of the impeachment of President Johnson, on the part of the managers. The language used is unusually strong, and it will be seen that Boutwell does not even contemplate an acquittal by the Senate:

"The House of Representatives has brought this great criminal to you for trial upon the conviction that the country was in peril. They believe the interests of the country are no longer safe in his hands. Representing the whole country, they appeal to this tribunal to maintain the constitutional power of the Senate. Never before in the history of free Governments has there been so base, so unjustifiable an attempt upon the part of any Executive, who, elected by the people, to destroy the just authority of another department of the Government. You cannot fail to discern, your duty, and I need not say, your duty, in the case of this criminal. Andrew Johnson is guilty upon his own admissions, of having intentionally violated the public law of hanging and undermining powers not exercised or even attempted by any of his predecessors in office. Judge Pickens, of the District Court of New Hampshire, was impeached and removed from office for the crime of having appeared upon the bench in a state of intoxication. I need not say, your duty, in the case of this criminal. Andrew Johnson has disregarded and violated the laws, and Constitution of his country. Ten States of this Union are without law, without security, without safety, because of his evil purposes and machinations. Forty millions of people have been rendered anxious and uncertain as to the preservation of the public peace and the prosperity of the institutions of freedom in this country. Calve Verres is the great political criminal of history. For two years he was the scourge of Sicily. It had a population of about two millions of soul. A criminal at your bar has been the scourge of a country containing a population twenty times as great as this. Respondent has wronged the States or enriched himself by the plunder of their treasures, but he has adopted a policy which deprived the people of the blessings of the peace, of the protection of law and of the just reward of honest industry. A vast and important portion of the Republic is prostrate and helpless, under the evil which his administration has brought upon it. Verres had his friends but this respondent will look in vain, even in the South, for any testimonials to his virtues or to his public course. Will any one say that the heaviest punishment which you can give is any adequate punishment for these crimes? But it is yours to relieve, not to punish. The people of England have successfully resisted executive encroachment upon their rights. Let us not let our example be lost upon us. We suppressed the rebellion in arms, and we are now to repel it from the executive councils. At your bar the House of Representatives demand justice to the accused. Justice is of God, and it cannot perish. By and through justice comes obedience to law by all magistrates and people; by and through justice comes the liberty of law, which is freedom without license. Thus far, all concerning the case is now in your hands, and the argument is soon to be closed by my associates. The House of Representatives have presented this criminal at your bar with equal confidence in his guilt and in your disposition to administer exact justice between him and the people of the United States. His conviction is the triumph of law and order and of justice. I do not contemplate his acquittal. It is impossible; therefore I do not like to go beyond the possible in conjecture. But, Senators, the people of America will never permit an usurping Executive to break down the securities for liberty provided by the Constitution. The cause of the country is in your hands; your verdict of guilty is peace to our beloved land."

On the day of the late election in New Hampshire, in the town of Webster, where there are less than two hundred voters, there were fourteen men between seventy and eighty years of age, eleven between eighty and ninety, and one over ninety, who walked to the polls from a considerable distance to work and vote, the oldest being the first to come and the last to go.

CHANGED HANDS.—The Red Bluff Independent has changed hands and will be published in the future by C. D. Woodman and L. D. Clark. It still retains its independent character.

COMMUNICATED.

AT CHURCH.

Mr. EDITOR.—I beg permission to publish a few lines in the ENQUIRER. I attended church last Sunday evening, and had the misfortune to listen to a most astonishing tirade, which to designate a sermon would be a grave abuse of language. The Parson's whole was composed of the origin of man, the latter days, the thousand years of peace, God's personality, salvation through Christ and man's depravity; so disordered, multifarious and mixed that those of his audience who possessed the least taste for system and perspicuity in the use of the English tongue, must have marveled at beholding their religious teacher floundering thus frantically in the mire and quicksands of absurdity. He commenced by reading the second chapter of Genesis; discarded any figurative meaning, and construed it literally. "God is personal. He came in person upon the earth, took dirt and moulded it in imitation of His own person, breathed into it the breath of life, and thus created the first man; not a babe, but a full-grown man, with hair and teeth; a babe must have died from helplessness and want;" such an argument applies to the whole of the animal kingdom as well as to man, and it implies the inability of God to preserve the life of an infant which Himself might make. "But," said the learned expounder, "God, having planted the garden in Eden, could have had no object in placing a babe therein." So; to make his argument appear reasonable he accepted with blind credulity, the statement—in its very nature incapable of proof—that God planted a garden in Eden and assumed that man was made for the garden, instead of the garden being made for the man. I should infer from the text that God turned His attention to agriculture in Eden, after He had made Adam. Of course the Parson did not lose this opportunity of showering his Christian condolence on the devoted notice of the fair sex, but he failed to heed God's seeming lack of forethought in using all his available dirt to make the man without the least economical provision for the formation of a woman, and this too, after having worked diligently during the preceding days in forming the rest of the animal (as well as the vegetable) kingdom, male and female; thus by His profligate use of material being compelled to practice surgery upon His own creation, not once noticing his mistake until He had breathed into Adam the breath of life and Adam became a living soul. But I will not assume that God lacks forethought, or used chloroform to cause a deep sleep to fall upon Adam in order to deprive him of a rib; out of which God formed a full grown woman. If He could thus increase matter, He could have as well formed her from the root of a hair, allowing Adam to retain his rib and saving himself much trouble, at least so it would seem. The Parson ascribed man's sinfulness to the old story of the serpent and the forbidden fruit, and to the evident delight of his female hearers, exulted Eve from any criminal intent, assuming that Miss Eve was simply deceived, not knowing that the fruit had been forbidden, to which interpretation the ladies nodded assent with terrible sly glances toward the ladies in the front of the church.

"Fleece are like popples blown, You pluck the stem, the flower is down, Or like snow falls, in the river. A moment which then melts forever." If we turn again to the text we find Eve repeating to the serpent the command of God and the penalty He would inflict upon them for their transgression before she partook of the fruit; and, after her voluntary fall, compassing the ruin of Adam with her loving blandishments, just like any other woman. I feel to comprehend why the Parson, instead of misrepresenting the plain reading of his text, did not explain how it was that one of the four rivers which was fed from the waters of Eden compassed the whole land of Ethiopia, thus making plain what appears incongruous; however, I should not have deigned to notice his harangue, had it not been for his assertion that his text presented the "only reliable, authentic and reasonable account of man's origin, and of the serpent and the forbidden fruit, and had he not been also insulted by the memory of the renowned dead as well as the living by pronouncing all those "fools and worse than fools," who have been led to doubt the truth and authenticity of his text. Oh! shades of Descartes, Helvetius, Machiavelli, Montesquieu, Cuvier, Condillac and Condorcet, Bichat, Burke, Newton, Hume, Locke and Chillingworth, Voltaire, Humboldt, Bossuet, Buckle and a thousand other intellectual giants; and thou Lyell, Darwin, Agassiz, Draper and your illustrious contemporaries! Oh, that you should be thus publicly misrepresented and abused in this age of progress and enlightenment by one who, intellectually is unworthy to brush the dust from your outer garments? Who affirms the Mosaic account of man's origin must plant himself firmly upon the Mosaic chronology. And not one, I believe, of the eminent philosophers, geologists, naturalists and physiologists of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries accepts or even admits the truth of it. On the contrary, we have geological, as well as other incontrovertible evidence that mankind has inhabited this earth in large numbers for over fifteen thousand years. Many scientific men of the present day are of the firm belief that man inhabited our earth over fifty thousand years ago, nor is their belief founded upon wild supposition or ancient tradition. For one, I am not willing to admit that those who entertain a different belief than myself, or the aforesaid Parson, either in regard to the antiquity of man, or his origin, whether he has arrived at his present development through the laws of variation, or has sprung up in his order as the inevitable result of natural laws, or is a special creation by the personal interposition of a God, whether we derive our being from one common parentage or not, "are worse than fools" because of their belief. I am proud of being too tolerant and sensible to pursue such a course. I dare not so judge my fellow-man, fearing the same judgment would be meted to me in return, believing that "though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass or a tinkling cymbal." In connection with the above quotation, I was forcibly reminded while the Parson was dealing out his intellectual chowder, of the following lines from Butler:

"And still his tongue runs on, The lesser weight it bears with greater ease, And his everlasting clock Sets all men's ears upon the rack."

LET JUSTICE BE DONE.—We are particularly anxious to put upon record our entire commendation of the Governor of this State in his refusal to remove Mr. Cummings, the architect of the State Capital, on account of that gentleman's political sentiments. We are told that Governor Haight informed the persons who waited upon him for that purpose, that as he could not think of changing his family physician, or the builder of his private mansion on account of differing with him in politics, he could see no good and sufficient reason for acting differently in the State Capitol. It was conceded that the present architect was an exceedingly competent man, who was doing the work to the satisfaction of all. He would not endanger the harmony of the structure by appointing a new man, who, no matter how skillful, would necessarily have to study up all the plans, and might err. The public interests would be best served by continuing Mr. Cummings in office. The Governor deserves credit for his very sensible view of the subject. Such instances of regarding the public weal as above party considerations are too scarce to allow us to pass this over, notwithstanding the Governor is a political opponent.

AN INDIAN OUTRAGE NEAR HONEY LAKE.—Ex-Sheriff Naleigh, of Lassen county, says the State Capital Reporter of the 22nd instant, who arrived here yesterday direct from Susanville, Honey Lake Valley, gives us some particulars of a terrible outrage committed by Indians in that neighborhood on the 8th instant. On that day, Mr. Thomas Y. Pierson, with his wife and daughter, Hattie, 17 years of age, with two hired men, one named Cooper, the other unknown to Mr. Naleigh, started from Honey Lake Valley to go to Bed Rock Valley. About ten or eleven o'clock, while en route, they were seized by a boy engaged in herding stock, to be attacked by a party of Indians, and Mr. Cooper was seen to fall. The boy hastened to the nearest settlement, which was about eight miles distant, and gave the alarm. A large party of citizens went to the scene of the attack and arrived there at dark. The body of Cooper was found with the head cut off, the body split open and mutilated, as usual with the savages of the desert. It being dark, nothing further could be done, and the party returned. On the next day, a party numbering one hundred and fifty started in pursuit of the murdering band, but the result of the pursuit is not known. The fate of the others of Pierson's family is not known, but all are supposed to be killed or captured. The fate of the mother and daughter, if captured, will be horrible to the utmost degree. Great anxiety will prevail until their fate is known. The murdering Indians are supposed to be Putes, who are supported by the Government at the Pyramid Lake reservation, but engage in such forays for pasture. It is to be hoped an expedition from some of the neighboring camps will be sent after the Indians, trace them to their homes, whether it be on the reservation or in the mountains, and punish them with such a vengeance as they can appreciate. We will say honor to the soldiers who punish the murderers.

LECTURE.—Mark Twain "spoke a piece" in this place on Wednesday evening last to a large and appreciative audience. The subject "The Holy Land" was thoroughly digested, making one think of the fate of the lecturer's correspondence by the unappreciative camel of Cairo. Omitting the sarcasms of the lecturer, and the slang phrases that he didn't use to express his disgust for those who used his boot-jack to take off their over coats, the lecture was replete with the most touching bursts of eloquence and stirring appeals of pathos and sympathy it has been our fortune to listen to. Like the Emperor of Russia Mark made himself at home and left when he felt like it.

PUBLIC DOCUMENTS.—We herewith express our thanks to Hon. Wm. Higby, member of Congress from this State for a copy of a report from the Agricultural Department for 1866.

DEAD.—Sandy Bowers, one of the wealthiest miners of the State of Nevada, died at his residence near Virginia city on Thursday evening last.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.—We learn that an attempt was made last Sunday night to assassinate Mr. C. H. Walker, at Amador City, by some unknown person. The shot was fired through his bedroom window at him while he was in bed, but fortunately it missed him.—Amador Dispatch.

MEDICAL.

THE SCIENCE OF HEALTH.

Every Man His Own Physician.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS,

AND

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

Disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

The stomach is the great center which influences the health or disease of the system. Abused or debilitated by excess-indigestion, offensive breath and physical prostration are the natural consequences. Allied to the brain it is the source of headaches, mental depression, nervous complaints and unrefreshing sleep. The liver becomes affected and generates bilious disorders, pains in the side, &c. The bowels sympathize by Constiveness, Diarrhoea and Dysentery. The principal action of these Pills is on the stomach, and the liver, lungs, bowels and kidneys participate in their recuperative and regenerative operation.

Erysipelas and Salt Rheum.
Are two of the most common and virulent disorders prevalent on this continent, to these the Ointment is especially antagonistic, its "moisture" and "heat" eradicate the venom and then complete the cure.

Bad Legs, Old Sores, and Ulcers.
Cases of many years' standing, that have been stubbornly refused to yield to any other remedy or treatment, have been cured by the application of this powerful ointment.

Eruptions on the Skin.
Arising from a bad state of the blood of chronic diseases, are eradicated, and a clear and transparent surface regained by the restorative action of this Ointment. It suppresses many of the cosmetics and other toilet appliances in its power to displace rashes and other disfigurements of the face.

Female Complaints.
Whether in the young or old, married or single, these tonic medicines display so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible in the health of the patient. Being a purely vegetable preparation, they are a safe and reliable remedy for all female ailments in every condition of health and station of life.

Piles and Fistula.
Every form and feature of these prevalent and stubborn disorders is eradicated locally and entirely by the use of this ointment; the inflammation should precede its application. Its healing qualities will be found to be thorough and invariable.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:
Bunions, Piles, Sore Legs,
Burns, Rheumatism, Sore Breasts,
Chilblains, Ringworm, Sore Heads,
Fistula, Salt Rheum, Sore Throats,
Gout, Scalds, Sprains,
Stiff Joints, Tetters,
Lumbago, Skin Diseases, Venereal Sores,
Sores of all kinds, Mercurial Eruptions,

PATENT MEDICINE.

HELMHOLD'S BUCHU.

THE ONLY KNOWN REMEDY

FOR

DIABETES.

IRRITATION OF THE NECK OF THE BLADDER,
INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS,
TARRH OF THE BLADDER,
STRAUTARY ORTAIN-
PULURINAT-
ING.

For these diseases, it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms.

Are you troubled with that distressing pain in the small of the back and through the hips? A teaspoonful a day of Helmholt's Buchu will relieve you.

PHYSICIANS AND OTHERS

PLEASE NOTICE.

I make no secret of ingredients. Helmholt's Extract of Buchu, is composed of Buchu, Cane, and Juniper Berries, selected with great care, prepared in vacuo and according to rules of #### Pharmacy and Chemistry.

These ingredients are known as the most valuable Diuretics afforded.

A DIURETIC

Is that which acts upon the kidneys.

HELMHOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

ACTS GENTLY.

Is pleasant in taste and odor, free from all injurious properties, and immediate in its action.

FOR THE SATISFACTION OF ALL

See Medical Properties contained in the Dispensatory of the United States, of which the following is a correct copy:
"BUCHU. Its odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic. Its taste bitterish, and analogous to that of mint. It is given chiefly in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, morbid irritation of the Bladder, and Urinary diseases of the Prostate, and Retention of the Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. It has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections, and Dropsy."

MR. H. T. HELMHOLD:

DEAR SIR:—In regard to the question asked me as to my opinion about BUCHU, I would say that I have used and sold the article in various forms for the past thirty years. I do not think there is any form or preparation of it I have not used or know of, and I have seen recommended in various diseases where such indicate agent would be indicated.

You are aware, as well as myself, that it has been extensively employed in the various diseases of the bladder and kidneys, and the reputation it has acquired, in my judgement, is warranted by the facts.

I have seen and used, as stated before, every form of BUCHU—the powdered leaves, the simple decoction, tincture, fluid extracts; and I am not cognizant of any preparation of that plant at all equal to yours. Eighteen years experience, coupled with the knowledge of the value of its merits, and with no prejudice or partiality, I give your precedence over all others.

I value your Buchu for its effects on patients. I have cured with it, and seen cured with it, more diseases of the bladder and kidneys than I have ever seen cured with any other proprietary compound of whatever name, or any other Buchu.

Respectfully yours, &c.,

PRIVATE MEDICAL INSTITUTE.

Established by
DR. J. C. YOUNG, IN 1850.
For the cure of all Private Diseases and ALL FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

CONSULTING OFFICE,
536 WASHINGTON STREET,
SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA.
NO CURE, NO PAY.

Consultation by letter, or otherwise, FREE. Forwarding of letters, see below.

THIS CELEBRATED INSTITUTE has enjoyed on this coast an uninterrupted success of fourteen years, and has become one of the most renowned Hospitals of the age. What the celebrated Lock Hospital is to London, and the no less renowned establishment of Ricord is to Paris, this Institute has become to the Pacific Coast. The thousands annually received and cured place it in point of number of patients among the very first of the world, and the success of its treatment ranks it second to none.

PRIVATE DISEASES IN MALES AND FEMALES. In the treatment of these diseases, the Institute has achieved a success which is a source of pride to the medical profession. It is a source of pride to the medical profession, and a source of pride to the medical profession.

There is no more terrible scourge to the human race than these diseases arising from the contamination of Venereal Poison. The mild forms, by retreating to the blood, hold over the afflicted one, the destruction that is liable at any moment to fall and blight—to utterly destroy the earthly hopes.

MERCURY, recognized as the most fatal medical enemy to man, combining with the Venereal disease, has become a source of pride to the medical profession, and a source of pride to the medical profession.

Do not be satisfied with partial cures that leave the poison to crawl through the system, eating its way into the tissues and organs beneath the apparently smooth surface, to be again and again brought to the surface, and to be again and again brought to the surface.

Patients suffering from venereal diseases in any stage Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Bubo, Ulcers, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc., will be treated successfully. All Syphilitic and Mercurial Taints entirely removed from the system.

Dr. Pennington's diplomas are in his office, where patients can see for themselves that they are under the care of a regularly educated practitioner. The best references given in regard to the Institute.

Patients suffering under chronic diseases, can call and examine for themselves. We invite in vestigation, and we do not know everything, but we cure every-thing, but we cure every-thing, but we cure every-thing.

Low charges and quick cures. Ladies suffering from any complaint incidental to their sex, can consult the doctor, with the assurance of relief.

Female Monthly Pills.
Dr. Pennington is the only agent in California for Dr. Pennington's Female Monthly Pills. Their success has established their reputation as a female remedy, unapproached, and far in advance of every other remedy for suppression and irregularities, and other obstructions in females.

Persons at a distance can be cured at home, by addressing a letter to Dr. Pennington, corner of Sacramento and Montgomery streets, Rooms 10 and 11, or Box 573, P. O., San Francisco, stating the case as minutely as possible general name, age, residence, occupation, etc., etc.

PRIVATE MEDICAL AID.
QUICK CURES AND MODERATE CHARGES.
DR. W. K. DOHERTY'S
Private Medical and Surgical Institute,
Sacramento Street, below Montgomery, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Office. Private entrance on Leidesdorff Street, San Francisco.

Established expressly to afford the afflicted sound and scientific medical aid in the treatment and cure of all Private and Chronic Diseases, cases of Syphilis and all Disorders.

TO THE AFFLICTED.
Dr. W. K. DOHERTY returns his sincere thanks to his numerous patients for their patronage, and would take this opportunity to re-assure them that he continues to consult at his Institute for the cure of chronic diseases of the Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Digestive and Genito-urinary Organs, and all private diseases, viz: Syphilis in all its forms and stages, Seminal Weakness, and all the horrid consequences of self-abuse, Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Nocturnal and Diurnal emissions, Sexual Debility, Diseases of the Back and Loins, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, etc., etc.

He hopes that his long experience and successful practice will continue to ensure him a share of public patronage. By the practice of many years in Europe and the United States, he is enabled to apply the most efficient and successful remedies against diseases of all kinds. He uses no mercury, charges moderate, treats his patients in a correct and honorable way, and has references of unquestionable veracity from men of known respectability and high standing in society. All parties consulting him by letter or otherwise, will receive the best and gentlest treatment, and implicit success.

To Females.
When a female is in trouble, or afflicted with disease as weakness of the back and limbs, pain in the head, dimness of sight, loss of muscular power, palpitation of the heart, irritability, nervousness, extreme urinary difficulties, frequent discharges, general debility, vaginitis, all diseases of the womb, hysteria, sterility and all other diseases peculiar to females, she should go or write once to the celebrated female doctor, W. K. Doherty, at his Medical Institute, and consult him about her troubles and disease. The Doctor is effecting more cures than any other physician in the State of California. Let no false delicacy prevent you, but apply immediately and save yourself from painful sufferings and premature death. All Married Ladies, whose delicate health or other circumstances prevent an increase in their families should write or call at Dr. W. K. Doherty's Medical Institute, and they will receive every possible relief and help. The Doctor's offices are so arranged that he can be consulted without fear of observation.

To Correspondents.
Patients residing in any part of the State, however distant, who may desire the opinion and advice of Dr. Doherty on their respective cases, and who think proper to submit a written statement of such, in preference to holding a personal interview, are respectfully assured that their communications will be held most sacred. Dr. Doherty takes this opportunity of observing, that all letters are opened only and replied to by himself, and the latter as promptly as possible.

If the case be fully and candidly described, as instructions for diet, regimen, and the general treatment of the case (including the remedy), will be forwarded without delay, and in such a manner as to convey notice of the purpose of the letter or parcel so transmitted. Consultation by letter or otherwise, FREE. Permanent cure guaranteed or no pay.

FRENCH MEDICAL OFFICE.

DR. JULIEN PEREAULT, Doctor of Medicine of the Faculty of Paris, Graduate of the University of Lyons, and Physician of the St. John Baptist Society of San Francisco.

Dr. PEREAULT has pleasure in informing patients, and others seeking confidential medical advice, that he can be consulted daily at his office, Armory Hall Building, North-East corner Montgomery and Sacramento streets, San Francisco. Rooms No. 9, 10, 11, first floor, up stairs, entrance either Montgomery or Sacramento street.

Dr. PEREAULT's studies have been almost exclusively devoted to the cure of the various forms of Nervous and Physical Debility, the results of injurious habits acquired in youth, which usually terminate in impotence and sterility, and permanently induce all the concomitants of old age. Where a secret infirmity exists involving the happiness of a life and that of others, reason and morality dictate the necessity of its removal, for it is a fact that premature decline of the vigor of manhood, matrimonial unhappiness, compulsory single life, etc., have their sources in causes, the germ of which is planted in early life, and the bitter fruit tasted long after-ward; patients, laboring under this complaint, will complain of one or more of the following symptoms: Nocturnal Emissions, Pains in the Back and Head, Weakness of Memory and Sight, Discharge from the Urethra on getting up or making water, the Intellectual Faculties are Weakened, Loss of Memory ensues, Ideas are clouded and there is a disinclination to attend to business, or even to reading, writing or the society of friends, etc. The patient will probably complain of Dizziness, Vertigo and that Sight and Hearing are Weakened, and sleep disturbed by dreams, melancholy, sighing, palpitations, faintings, coughs and slow fever; while some have external rheumatic pains, blemish of the body. Some of the most common symptoms are pimples in the face and aching in different parts of the body. Patients suffering from this disease, should apply immediately to Dr. PEREAULT, either in person or by letter as he will guarantee a cure of Seminal Emissions and Impotence in six to eight weeks.

Patients suffering from venereal diseases in any stage Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Bubo, Ulcers, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc., will be treated successfully. All Syphilitic and Mercurial Taints entirely removed from the system.

PLANTATION BITTERS.

Dyspepsia, with its symptoms, Headache, Heartburn, Feverish Lips, Bad Breath, Salivary Complication, etc., can be cured by using PLANTATION BITTERS.

This is the most successful tonic of the age. Young, middle-aged and old are delighted with its effects.

The first trial always has a marked effect. No change in diet is necessary. Eat all you wish, of the best and most nutritious food. It is the greatest cure ever known for an over-laid and distressed stomach, which it relieves in a few moments.

We know that we have the best and most popular medicine in the world. We are not afraid to show what it is composed of.

PHYSICIANS ARE COMPELLED TO RECOMMEND IT. CALISTO BARK has been celebrated for over two hundred years, and was sold during the reign of Louis XVI, King of France for the enormous price of its weight in silver. It is remarkable for Dyspepsia, Fevers, Weakness, Constipation, etc.

CASCARILLA BARK.—For Diarrhoea, Colic and diseases of the stomach and bowels. DANDELION.—For Inflammation of the Loins, and Dropsical Affections. CAMOMILE FLOWERS.—For en
